New Media and Communication Technology explores the way technology is transforming the field of communication. Students in this major choose one of two tracks to pursue: Human-Computer Interaction or Communication Technology Management.

The Human-Computer Interaction track focuses on how people use technology and the social implications of new technologies. The Communication Technology Management track teaches you how to help others use technology effectively in the workplace.

To be considered for admission to the major, students must complete these two pre-major courses. A grade of C- or better is required in both courses. Admission is competitive and an online application is required.
