Course description

This course will be delivered 100% online in synchronous format. One Zoom link will be published for access to the class meetings with a password. Another Zoom link will be published for office hours throughout the semester. You can always find these on Carmen's Announcements. This course helps you understand the problem of terrorism in our contemporary, increasingly global, world. Our approach is communication-based but we draw upon literature from many disciplines to help explain the key issues related to domestic and international terrorism, counter-terrorism and issues of public communication that are relevant to public understanding of terrorism and terrorists. Terrorism is examined as a tactic used by people to press various grievances with governments. You will learn to differentiate terrorism from related concepts with which it is often confused, for example, guerilla war, insurgency, and interstate industrial war, as well as asymmetric and unrestricted war.

Students from many disciplines across campus are enrolled in our course. This is an important opportunity to examine scholarship from different perspectives and to interact with students from different majors. Like many complex social and political problems, terrorism is not a problem that can be solved by people trained in any one discipline. By reading materials generated by different disciplines, talking about the problem with classmates from varying backgrounds and perspectives, thinking about these experiences and writing your own ideas, you will hopefully come to a good understanding of the complex nature of the problem and the multidimensional solutions that are necessary to bring it under control.

Course learning goals and outcomes

1. You are expected to learn about the nature of terrorism, as well as learn about who are terrorists, what kinds of goals they pursue, and what are the best ways for societies and governments to combat terrorism.
2. Terrorism is often confused with other related phenomenon such as guerilla war, insurgency, interstate industrial war, asymmetric war and unrestricted war. By the end of the course you ought to be able to distinguish these phenomena from each other.

3. Terrorism is a tactic usually aimed at collapsing governments. You will learn to identify the ways this is pursued – _by prompting governments to over-react. Terrorists also try to disrupt communities and societies by causing economic hardship, attacking ordinary people to create fear in the population and causing them to demand increased security from their governments. Terrorists often create or exploit ethnic, class or religious differences, creating chaos and fear, and occasionally try to assassinate leaders. You will learn to recognize these tactics.
4. Free, independent media have a vital role in democratic societies. You will develop an understanding of the tensions between media freedom and censorship when covering terrorism. There are many new forms of media and some terrorists have become very skilled in their use. How do groups like ISIS and al Qaeda recruit followers, motivate them, and try to justify their actions? Is it ever acceptable for governments or technology firms to censor terrorists' communication on social media or on the internet generally?
5. Controversial remedies for terrorism – rendition, torture, dragnet surveillance of populations, and similar issues that some people believe negatively affects privacy and perhaps democracy itself -- will be examined, along with the implications of their portrayals in popular entertainment and news.
6. We will also consider the role of soft power and smart power along with the limitations of conventional warfare when confronting insurgencies and shadowy terrorist organizations at home and abroad.
7. Finally, we will consider the case of American domestic terrorism and options for countering such threats within the United States.

GE Requirements: This course fulfills the General Education requirements for Cross-Disciplinary Seminar and GE Diversity: Global Studies. The Arts and Sciences Curriculum Committees have specified certain learning outcomes for the course. These are as follows:

  - a. Students describe and evaluate the roles of such categories as race, gender and sexuality, disability, class, ethnicity, and religion in the pluralistic institutions and cultures of the United States.
  - b. Students recognize the role of social diversity in shaping their own attitudes and values regarding appreciation, tolerance, and equality of others.
2. Global Studies:

  - b. Students recognize the role of national and international diversity in shaping their own attitudes and values as global citizens.
3. Cross-Disciplinary Seminar: Students demonstrate an understanding of a topic of interest through scholarly activities that draw upon multiple disciplines and through their interactions with students from different majors.
  - a. Understand benefits and limitations of different disciplinary perspectives.
  - b. Understand benefits of synthesizing multiple disciplinary perspectives.

- c. Synthesize and apply knowledge from diverse disciplines to topic of interest.

Mode of delivery

This course will be presented fully online via Zoom with synchronous class meetings twice a week at fixed times. The live distance learning component will take place every Monday and Wednesday from 11:30PM to 12:25PM throughout the semester. The instructor will send an announcement which includes the recurring meeting link ahead of the first meeting.

How this course works

This course meets for two 55-minute sessions each week for the semester. Information relevant to the course will be delivered in multiple formats: lectures, discussions, readings, PowerPoint slides, and videos. All your exams, quizzes, and other assignments will be completed online, and all the teaching materials are provided online within Carmen. The Zoom sessions will supplement your learning, as I will provide further explanations of material, and also challenge you in intelligently discussing complex concepts with your peers in class.

Note that every effort has been made to create a syllabus that is as comprehensive and accurate as possible. But each class is a living entity and changes likely will arise. In particular, as U.S. and international guest speakers may become available on short notice, please understand that occasionally it might be necessary to make small changes in the order in which we'll cover course subject material. In all instances as much advance written notice as possible will be given about changes.

Course materials

Required

Sandler, T. (2018). Terrorism: What everyone needs to know. New York: Oxford University Press. Note there is a Kindle edition of this book available from amazon.com at an ultra-low price that I recommend.

In addition to the required textbook (listed above), PDFs of selected chapters and articles, links, and other materials will be posted on Carmen for each class. Students are expected to complete all readings prior to class so that they will be prepared to discuss the material in class and turn in all assignments on time. If any student is interested in diving deeper into assigned or related topics, please contact me and I can suggest additional resources.

In order to contextualize and fully appreciate the challenges that terrorism poses to our society you must be an engaged, informed consumer of current news. I strongly suggest that you follow a respected, credible global news outlet such as BBC or Reuters DAILY, and/or a national newspaper online such as The New York Times, Washington Post, or Smartphone apps such as Apple News for these and other media outlets are readily available and easy to navigate. Many of these apps have home sharing features, which means they can be used by multiple people in a household.

Note that an important part of the class involves media – news and entertainment that touches on the themes of our course. I will try hard throughout the semester to share with you examples of good quality media from highly reputable sources. If you have reservations about these sources, I'd suggest that you schedule some time with me so we can discuss your concerns. No sources of information are perfect, but high quality media have certain things in common -- highly trained and experienced persons, resources that permit high-quality work to be performed, recognition by peers in the way of prestigious awards for high-quality journalism, seasoned, experienced editors, and a willingness to admit errors and mistakes and correct them.

Grading and faculty response

Grading

Following are the point values and/or percentages for each assignment:

Assignments	Points and/or Percentage
Midterm Exam	25%
Final Exam	25%
1-page Response Papers (2 @ 10% each)	20%
Weekly post-class quizzes (15 x 2% each)	30%
Total	100%

Assignments

Attendance and participation: This hybrid course includes readings, films and various PowerPoint decks as the primary course materials. PowerPoint slides will be made available in most cases before the class meeting and you should look through them before class. Typically we will discuss the slides and we will try to clear up any questions you might have about the material. This might involve some traditional lecturing as needed, but I would prefer to use the time for discussion and questions, assuming you have become familiar with the material.

Note that attendance is required at all class sessions. After the last class of the week, you will complete a brief quiz about the material for that week. These will include about five questions in varying formats, but mainly multiple choice and questions that require you to write a few sentences. You will have a few days following the final class of the week to complete this each week, but it must be completed during this time period.

You will need to participate actively in order to get maximum benefit from the course. Evidence clearly shows that students who come to class regularly and engage in discussion learn more and generally do better in the class. This means you will need to come to the class, stay for the entire period, and be prepared for it by reading the assigned materials in advance. This is very important. Please make an effort to be on time for the class. Let me know in advance if you are going to be absent.

1-Page Response Papers: Each of you will sign up in advance to write response papers regarding one week's set of readings and films. These papers should deal with the themes contained in those materials. Each paper should be around 500 words (about one page, single-spaced). The papers will be uploaded to Carmen before the first class of the week that you are writing about. I want your reactions to the course materials – not the lectures or class discussions – so the idea is that you will write these before hearing the lectures or classroom discussion. Please DO NOT consult the online PowerPoints in preparing these essays.

In preparing the essay, first read all chapters, articles or other written materials, and view any visual material such as movies that are assigned for that day. Think about these experiences and try to identify a crosscutting theme that runs through these materials. In your essay, say what that theme is, provide a concise description of the theme, and explain what you mean by it. Offer your reaction to the theme, and back up your findings with facts or conclusions from the various experiences. It is very important to write absolutely accurate, factual information.

The best essays will articulate a point of view with respect to the materials and then use facts from the materials to support this argument. These papers should not be a summary of the main points. I am more interested in your reaction to the information. This might involve the usefulness of the information, how it compares to what you thought about the topic before you read it, the level of interest you have in it, anything that you found particularly surprising or disappointing, etc.

Note that although these essays are short, they must contain all the elements of any well-written essay: A good, creative title, strong lead that introduces the topic and sets up your approach to it, appropriate transitions and a sensible conclusion. I will post a specific grading rubric on Carmen for these papers. Check that for the specific quality criteria for which points are assigned.

Note that although the expectation for these papers is about 500 words, I am not going to count the words or penalize you for writing more if you feel the need to write longer in order to adequately express your responses to the readings.

Quizzes and exams:

All quizzes, papers, midterm and final exam will be turned in online to the appropriate drop box in order to be graded. The number 1 class rule is that I cannot grade any paper sent to me via email or handed to me in person. Do not email papers to me. The quizzes and exams will be conducted online using Carmen's quiz function and will deal with the readings, videos, and lecture materials. Instructions about quizzes and exams will be given prior to quizzes and exams.

Late assignments

Each assignment, quiz or paper to be completed in this class will have some flexibility built into it to give you the chance to complete it when it is most convenient for you. But this flexibility has limits. Accordingly, please note that all post-class weekly quizzes must be taken during the designated days/times each week. Please note that there is no exception to this policy and late papers will be flagged. This means that you must plan accordingly and get your work in well ahead of the published deadlines. The quizzes are meant to be timely, and relatively low stakes (2% each).

Generally speaking, other work must be completed during the designated intervals. There is no extra credit work for completing research studies in the C-rep subject pool or via any other arrangement.

Grading scale

93–100: A	80–82.9: B-	67 –69.9: D+
90–92.9: A-	77–79.9: C+	60 –66.9: D
87–89.9: B+	73–76.9: C	Below 60: E
83–86.9: B	70 –72.9: C-

Please note: Carmen Canvas, OSU's grading and class management software, does not round fractions up. Please take that into account in computing grades. I do not manually round up grades.

Attendance, participation, and discussions

Credit hour and work expectation

This is a 3-credit-hour course. According to Ohio State policy, students should expect around 3 hours per week of time spent on direct instruction (instructor content and Carmen activities, for example) in addition to 6 hours of homework (reading and assignment preparation, for example) to receive a grade of (C) average. ASC Honors provides an excellent guide to scheduling and study expectations.

Student participation requirements

Because this is a 100% distance-education course, your attendance is based on your online activity and participation. The following is a summary of everyone's expected participation:

- Attending lectures:
Attend two weekly lectures and actively participate in discussions and activities
- Weekly assignments
Keep up with readings and assignments posted on Carmen.
- Office hours:
I am available to help you to learn, understand, and grow as individuals. If your question is something that you believe may be of interest to others in the class, please post to the "Ask the instructor" discussion board. Office hours are digital via Carmen Zoom.

Faculty feedback and response time

I am providing the following list to give you an idea of my intended availability throughout the course. (Remember that you can call 614-688-HELP at any time if you have a technical problem.)

Grading and feedback

For large weekly assignments, you can generally expect feedback within 7-10 days.

E-mail

I will reply to e-mails within 24 hours on school days.

Discussion board

I will check and reply to messages in the discussion boards every 24 hours on school days.

Discussion and communication guidelines

The following are my expectations for how we should communicate as a class. Above all, please remember to be respectful and thoughtful.

- Tone and civility: Let's maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably. Remember that sarcasm doesn't always come across online. The instructor and TA both work very hard to provide a positive learning experience. Please keep this in mind and remain civilized and respectful in your email and discussion board communications.

- Citing your sources: When we have academic discussions, please cite your sources to back up what you say. (For the textbook or other course materials, please use APA style. For online sources, be sure to include a link.)

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. The Ohio State University offers services to assist you with addressing these and other concerns you may be experiencing.

If you are or someone you know is suffering from any of the aforementioned conditions, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life's Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling 614--292--5766. ## Academic integrity policy

Academic Misconduct

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term "academic misconduct" includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct <http://studentlife.osu.edu/csc/>

While many people associate academic misconduct with "cheating," the term encompasses a wider scope of student behaviors which include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Violation of course rules;
- Violation of program regulations;
- Knowingly providing or receiving information during a course exam or program assignment;
- Possession and/or use of unauthorized materials during a course exam or program assignment;
- Knowingly providing or using assistance in the laboratory, on field work, or on a course assignment, unless such assistance has been authorized specifically by the course instructor or, where appropriate, a project/research supervisor;
- Submission of work not performed in a course: This includes (but is not limited to) instances where a student fabricates and/or falsifies information for an academic assignment. It also includes instances where a student submits data or information (such as a term paper) from one course to satisfy the requirements of another course, unless submission of such work is permitted by the instructor;
- Submitting plagiarized work for a course/program assignment;
- Serving as or asking another student to serve as a substitute while taking an exam.

Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the University's Code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute "Academic Misconduct." Ignorance of the University's Code of Student Conduct is never considered an excuse for academic misconduct, so I recommend that you review the Code of Student Conduct and, specifically, the sections dealing with academic misconduct.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by University Rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the University's Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the University. If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Accessibility accommodations for students with disabilities

Requesting accommodations

Students with disabilities (including mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions) that have been certified by the Office of Student Life Disability Services will be appropriately accommodated and should inform the instructor as soon as possible of their needs. The Office of Student Life Disability Services is located in 098 Baker Hall, 113 W. 12th Avenue; telephone 614- 292-3307, slds@osu.edu; slds.osu.edu.
