Course description and prerequisites

This course examines the causes, consequences, and cures to human aggression and violence. We begin by describing how researchers define and measure aggression and violence. We discuss various theories proposed to explain why humans behave aggressively. We discuss individual risk factors for aggression (e.g., age, gender, trait aggressiveness, “dark” personality traits). We discuss situational factors that promote aggression (e.g., aversive events, global warming, alcohol, social exclusion, guns). Next, we examine in detail the research examining the short- and long-term effects of violent media exposure, and why people deny these effects. We discuss aggression in different domains of life (e.g., school bullying, workplace bullying, aggressive driving and road rage, aggression in the sports world). We discuss aggression in the family (e.g., child maltreatment, intimate partner violence, elder abuse). We discuss sexual aggression, aggression between social groups (e.g., gang violence, hate crimes, crowd behavior), mass shootings, and terrorism. Finally, we discuss how to prevent and reduce anger, aggression, and violence.

General learning outcomes

This course satisfies the General Education Curriculum requirement for “Health & Well-being.” At the conclusion of this course students should be able to:

Goal 1: Successful students will analyze an important topic or idea at a more advanced and in-depth level than the foundations.

Expected Learning Outcome 1.1: Engage in critical and logical thinking about the topic or idea of the theme.

The assigned 16 quizzes, 2 exams (which include short answer items), and writing assignments (milestone assignment 1, milestone assignment 2, term paper) all encourage critical and logical thinking about the topics discussed in this course. Milestone Assignment 1 asks students to: (a) identify their topic of interest, (b) write a paragraph on what they plan to write about this topic, and (c) write an annotated bibliography of at least five references that they plan on using in their final paper (see rubric). For each annotated bibliography students must: (a) Describe the central idea in each source (e.g., the thesis, the arguments, the main findings and conclusions), (b) Critically evaluate the source (e.g., aims, research methods, scope, limitations), and (c) Describe the relevance of the source to their topic. This assignment requires critical and logical thinking about the topic students choose.

Expected Learning Outcome 1.2: Engage in an advanced, in-depth, scholarly exploration of the topic or idea of the theme.

Students engage in an advanced, in-depth scholarly exploration of one of the topics we discuss in the course. They write a term paper on this topic that is at least 7 pages long and contains at least 5 peer-reviewed scientific journal articles. The term paper is an integrative paper where they are expected to: (a) provide historical background for topic, (b) relate the topic to at least one aggression theory, (c) discuss the research evidence, and (d) discuss practical implications linked to the health and well-being theme. Prior to completing the term paper, they complete two milestone assignments. Milestone assignment 1 is an annotated bibliography of 5 peer-reviewed scientific journal articles for the term paper. Milestone assignment 2 is a detailed outline for the term paper.

Goal 2: Successful students will integrate approaches to the theme by making connections to out-of-classroom experiences with academic knowledge or across disciplines and/or to work they have done in previous classes and that they anticipate doing in future.

Expected Learning Outcome 2.1: Identify, describe, and synthesize approaches or experiences as they apply to the theme.

The term paper is a synthesis of research evidence on a topic related to the course, and hence to the health and well-being theme. The term paper requires students to apply at least one aggression theory to the topic they have chosen. It also requires them to discuss practical implications linked to the health and well-being theme.

Expected Learning Outcome 2.2: Demonstrate a developing sense of self as a learner through reflection, self-assessment, and creative work, building on prior experiences to respond to new and challenging contexts.

One of the main topics of this course is individual differences in aggression. This requires students to engage in self-assessment regarding these whether they possess any of these individual differences that increase or decrease the likelihood that they will engage in aggressive behaviors. We discuss individual differences on aggression in two lectures. One lecture discusses age and gender differences in aggression. The other lecture discusses trait aggressiveness and the “dark tetrad,” which are four dark personality traits that are related to aggression (i.e., psychopathy, narcissism, Machiavellianism, sadism). The various traits are measured using standardized instruments, and students can compare how they score with national and international norms. Students are tested over these concepts in quizzes and exam questions. One of the short answer questions for one of the exams is about individual differences in aggression. In addition, students can choose to write their term paper on one of these topics.

Health & well-being learning outcomes

Goal: Students will explore and analyze health and well-being through attention to at least two dimensions of well-being. (Ex: physical, mental, emotional, career, environmental, spiritual, intellectual, creative, financial, etc.).

Expected Learning Outcome 1.1 Explore and analyze health and well-being from theoretical, socio-economic, scientific, historical, cultural, technological, policy, and/or personal perspectives.

At the beginning of the course, we discuss definitions for aggression and violence, different forms of aggression (e.g., physical vs. verbal; indirect vs. direct vs. displaced), different functions of aggression (i.e., reactive aggression is impulsive and annoyance-based; proactive aggression is premeditated and incentive-based), different measures of aggression and violence, and whether the world is more violent now than in the past. COMM 3442 is heavy on theory, and theories are discussed early in the class. Three lectures are devoted to theories of aggression. The first lecture discusses biological theories of aggression (ethology, sociobiology, behavior genetics, hormonal explanations). The second lecture discusses psychological theories of aggression (Freudian psychoanalysis, frustration-aggression hypothesis, cognitive neoassociationism, excitation transfer theory, social learning theory, social cognitive theory, social information processing model, I-cubed theory, General Aggression Model).

Expected Learning Outcome 1.2: Identify, reflect on, and apply the skills needed for resiliency and well-being.

This course focuses on four topics that require students to apply skills needed for resiliency and well-being, including: (1) effective (and ineffective) anger management techniques, (2) reducing violent media effects, (3) reducing group aggression, and (4) conceptualizing violence as a contagious disease that can either be prevented or treated. These topics are covered in the textbook, supplemental readings, quizzes, and exams. One of the short answer questions asks students to briefly describe effective anger management techniques. In addition, students can choose to write their term paper on one of these topics. Much of the course is devoted to applying and learning skills that students can use long after the course is over.

Course objectives

Students who complete this course will also:
1. Understand how researchers define and measure aggression and violence.
2. Comprehend theories of aggression.
3. Identify individual risk factors for aggression.
4. Identify situational factors that promote aggression.
5. Analyze violent and sexual media effects, why some people deny these effects, and how to reduce these effects.
6. Demonstrate an understanding of aggression in different domains of everyday life.
7. Demonstrate an understanding of aggression in the family.
8. Demonstrate an understanding of aggression between social groups.
9. Demonstrate an understanding of mass shootings.
10. Demonstrate an understanding of terrorism.
11. Describe what works to reduce anger and aggression, and what does not.
12. Demonstrate the ability to provide a reasoned and researched analysis on course topics.

Mode of delivery

Access this eBook through the CarmenBooks reader link in the course navigation. In addition, supplemental readings will be posted on Carmen.

Grading

Graded Assignment Overview
The graded activities are designed to assess basic-level understandings (e.g., remember and understand) as well as higher-level understandings (e.g., apply and analyze). The specific assignments are presented below along with a short description of the general format of the assignment and its relationship to student learning.

Online quizzes: There are 16 online quizzes that are worth 32% of your grade; each quiz is worth 2%. All quizzes open the first day of classes. Each quiz closes Sunday night (1 minute before midnight).

1. Each quiz consists of 4 items worth 4 points (1 point each). The quiz questions are like exam questions.
2. The quizzes have a 5-minute time limit, so you should study prior to taking the quiz. You will not have time to look up the answers while you take the quiz.
3. You may take each quiz three times (only the highest score counts). Even if you get a perfect score the first or second time, I advise you to use all three attempts so you can get more practice taking tests. The quiz items were taken from old exams, so they can help you prepare for the exams.
4. When you retake the quiz, items are randomly selected from a pool of 12 items. Thus, you might (or might not) get some of the same questions again.
5. The quiz covers the readings and online lectures for the week listed on the schedule.

The purpose of the quizzes is to encourage you to keep up to date on your readings, lecture videos, and to help you understand the course material. The quizzes will also give you practice on the types of questions you will receive on the actual exams. Quiz answers are not revealed (because I reuse some items), but you can review your answers with me during office hours. You cannot make up a missed quiz.

Exams: There will be two exams that are worth 28% of your grade (14% each exam). Each exam has 24 items and is worth 28 points (22 multiple-choice items worth 1 point each and 2 short-answer items worth 3 points each). Over 70% of multiple-choice items and 100% of short answer items will come from lecture. Exam 1 will be given midterm during Week 9 and Exam 2 will be given finals week and is not comprehensive. All students are required to take Exam 2, including graduating seniors. Both exams are closed book; no external materials are allowed when taking exams (e.g., Google translate, PowerPoint slides, notes, books, articles, computers, handheld devices, communicating with other students, etc.). You will have 80 minutes to complete each exam. The exam will be open for 24 hours to accommodate possible conflicts and different time zones. However, the instructor will only be available on exam days between 9 AM and 5 PM. The exams will assess students’ knowledge of the readings and lectures as well as their ability to apply their knowledge to related contexts. Exam answers are not revealed (because I reuse some items), but you can review your answers with me during office hours. You cannot make up a missed exam.

Milestone assignments: There are two milestone assignments related to the term paper. These milestone assignments will help you with your final term paper.

• Milestone Assignment 1 is due during Week 5 and is worth 5% of your grade. This assignment asks students to: (a) identify their topic of interest, (b) write a paragraph on what they plan to write about this topic, and (c) include an annotated bibliography of at least five references that they plan on using in their final paper.

• Milestone Assignment 2 is due during Week 10 and is worth 10% of your grade. This assignment is an outline of your term paper. By this point, students should have completed the primary research needed to write the term paper. The outline should be at least 4 pages long (double-spaced) and have enough detail that the instructor has a firm understanding of what the student will discuss in their final term paper. You cannot make up a missed Milestone assignment.

Term paper: The individual term paper will ask each student to write a paper on any of the topics discussed in class. It is due the last day of class and is worth 25% of your grade. The paper should be at least 7 pages long (excluding title page and references), should apply at least one theory we have discussed, should discuss practical implications, and should include at least five references to scientific studies, which you can find on Google Scholar or a computer database (e.g., PsycINFO, Communication & Mass Media Complete). The references should be in American Psychological Association (APA; 7th Edition) format. Information and a rubric are on Carmen. You cannot make up a missed Term Paper.

If you need help locating articles for your written assignments, the School of Communication has its own librarian: Hillary Bussell <bussell.21@osu.edu> (614) 292-9437. You can also ask an OSU reference librarian <thospcol@osu.edu> (614) 292-5938

Student Evaluation of Instruction (SEI): At the end of the semester, you will receive an email about completing an SEI for this course. There are three options to access the SEI: (1) a link in the email, (2) a link in Carmen, or (3) via the OSU Mobile App. OSU uses SEIs to evaluate teachers. However, if the response rate is low, SEIs are difficult to interpret. I have received permission from my department chair to offer 1% extra credit to all students if the SEI response rate is over 80%. Please complete your SEI.

Note. Grades are not rounded. No extra credit is offered in this course (other than 1% if at least 80% of students complete the SEI). Please do not ask me to raise your grade, even if you just barely missed the next highest grade. It is against OSU policy to change a grade for any reason other than a clerical error.

Grading curve: I do not use a grading curve. However, if the average total grade at the end of the semester is under 75%, I will add a bonus percentage to everyone’s grade (e.g., if it is 73%, I will add 2% to everyone’s grade).

Late assignments

Late work is not accepted in this class. Assignments turned in after the deadline will only be accepted with a valid medical or university excuse that is presented within 5 days of the missed deadline. It is the student’s responsibility to be sure the assignment is submitted correctly and on time. Please check your Carmen folder after submission to ensure the upload is there and complete.

Credit hour and work expectation

This is a 3-credit-hour course. According to Ohio State policy, students should expect around 3 hours per week of time spent on direct instruction (instructor content and Carmen activities, for example) in addition to 6 hours of homework (reading and assignment preparation, for example) to receive an average grade (i.e., “C”). ASC Honors provides an excellent guide to scheduling and study expectations.
Student participation requirements

Because this is a distance-education course, your attendance is based on your online activity and participation. The following is a summary of everyone’s expected participation:

- Modules:
  The module for each week is sorted as Topics, Readings, PowerPoint slides, Videotaped lectures, and Assignments. Note that the PowerPoint slides contain only definitions of concepts rather than all the slides shown in the videotaped lectures.¹

- Office hours:
  I am available to help you to learn, understand, and grow as individuals. Office hours are digital via CarmenZoom Monday 8-11 AM via this link on CarmenZoom (no appointment needed).

Grading and feedback

For written assignments, you can expect feedback within 7 days.

E-mail

I will reply to e-mails within 24 hours on school days.

Encouraging an optimal learning experience

Previous distance learning courses have provided insights from students on how to improve the learning experience and optimize outcomes. Here are a few tips from previous students to encourage your success in this online course:

- Students kept up with the Schedule and assignment due dates.
- Students made sure they had access to a reliable internet connection.
- Students had access to at least one reliable device and a backup plan in case of a technological issue.
- Students have made plans to back up work. OSU provides free access to data storage through Microsoft One Drive.

• Students reported that completing assigned readings before viewing lectures (or attending synchronous lectures) helped them to be prepared to follow along with lectures.

• Students scheduled time to complete activities at a steady pace during the week. Keeping a schedule prevented a last-minute rush and kept the workload manageable.

• Students approached the material by thinking about the connections between readings, lectures, and assignments.

• Proctorio: Proctorio, an online proctoring tool, will be used during this course. Proctorio offers you flexibility to take your exams at the time and in the location of your choosing. Students are required to have a webcam (USB or internal) with a microphone and a strong and stable internet connection. It uses the Google Chrome or Microsoft Edge web browser. During the exam, Proctorio will record the testing environment, therefore students should select private spaces for the exam session where disruptions are unlikely and where recording devices can be enabled. Instructions for Proctorio use will be provided prior to the exam. To use Proctorio you must be over 18 years of age. For students under age 18, please have a parent/guardian complete this consent form if they allow you to use Proctorio, and return it to me. Additionally, the tool has limitations in its accessibility for students reliant upon screen readers and keyboard navigation. If you have concerns about using an online proctoring tool for the reasons listed above or in general, please work with your instructor to find an equivalent alternative. Additional information on academic integrity at Ohio State and recommended proctoring options are available. Here is a guide for installing and using Proctorio. You cannot take the exam on a handheld device, iPad, or tablet; use a laptop or desktop computer.

OTHER COURSE POLICIES

Academic integrity policy

See Descriptions of major course assignments, above, for my specific guidelines about collaboration and academic integrity in the context of this online class.

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term “academic misconduct” includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct (link).

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by university rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the university’s Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the university.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Other sources of information on academic misconduct (integrity) to which you can refer include:

- Committee on Academic Misconduct web page (link).
- Ten Suggestions for Preserving Academic Integrity (link) which includes this suggestion about plagiarism:

  “Acknowledge the sources that you use when completing assignments”

  If you use another person’s thoughts, ideas, or words in your work, you must acknowledge this fact. This applies regardless of whose thoughts, ideas, or words you use as well as the source of the information. If you do not acknowledge the work of others, you are implying that another person’s work is your own, and such actions constitute plagiarism. Plagiarism is the theft of another’s intellectual property, and plagiarism is a serious form of academic misconduct. If you are ever in doubt about whether or not you should acknowledge a source, err on the side of caution and acknowledge it.

I also have included a module on “Plagiarism” on Carmen, which includes a document on AI (e.g., ChatGPT), videos with handouts (to test for comprehension), a webpage on Ethical Information Use, and a handout called “Plagiarism: Definition & Forms.”

Student services and advising

University Student Services can be accessed through BuckeyeLink (link). Advising resources for students are available here.

Copyright for instructional materials

The materials used in connection with this course may be subject to copyright protection and are only for the use of students officially enrolled in the course for the educational purposes associated with the course. Copyright law must be considered before copying, retaining, or disseminating materials outside of the course.

Statement on Title IX

All students and employees at Ohio State have the right to work and learn in an environment free from harassment and discrimination based on sex or gender, and the university can arrange interim measures, provide support resources, and explain investigation options, including referral to confidential resources. If you or someone you know has been harassed or discriminated against based on your sex or gender, including sexual harassment, sexual assault, relationship violence, stalking, or sexual exploitation, you may find information about your rights and options at titleix.osu.edu or

Land acknowledgement

We would like to acknowledge the land that The Ohio State University occupies is the ancestral and contemporary territory of the Shawnee, Potawatomi, Delaware, Miami, Peoria, Seneca, Wyandotte, Ojibwe and Cherokee peoples. Specifically, the university resides on land ceded in the 1795 Treaty of Greeneville and the forced removal of tribes through the Indian Removal Act of 1830. We want to honor the resiliency of these tribal nations and recognize the historical contexts that has and continues to affect the Indigenous peoples of this land. More information on OSU’s land acknowledgement can be found here.

Wellness

As a student, your health and wellness can have an impact on your academic success. Common wellness concerns during your time at the university may include high levels of stress, sleep and diet behaviors, alcohol and other drug use, depression and anxiety, and interpersonal relationship issues. The Office of Student Life has numerous resources and services available to you at no charge to help you address those concerns. You can learn more about health and wellness resources available on campus by visiting the websites for the Student Wellness Center, Wilce Student Health Center, Recreational Sports and Counseling and Consultation Service. For students in recovery or seeking recovery from substance use disorders, learn more about support on campus by visiting the Collegiate Recovery Community. For students facing food insecurity, learn more about the free on-campus food pantry by visiting the Buckeye Food Alliance. For students interested in speaking with a peer to learn more about campus resources, call the Buckeye Peer Access Line. For students interested in meeting with a peer and setting holistic wellness goals, learn more about Wellness Coaching.

Your mental health
As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learn, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. No matter where you are engaged in distance learning, The Ohio State University’s Student Life Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) is here to support you. If you find yourself feeling isolated, anxious or overwhelmed, on-demand resources are available (link). You can reach an on-call counselor when CCS is closed at 614- 292-5766, and 24-hour emergency help is also available through the 24/7 National Prevention Hotline at 1-800-273-TALK or at suicidepreventionlifeline.org. The Ohio State Wellness app is also a great resource available (link).

ACCESSIBILITY ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Requesting accommodations

The university strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability including mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions, please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, I may request that you register with Student Life Disability Services. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion.
