BACHELOR OF ARTS IN JOURNALISM

PUBLIC AFFAIRS JOURNALISM (PAJ)

for students admitted to the university Autumn 2022 and later

All programs in the College of Arts and Sciences require a minimum of 121 semester hours, including a minimum of 39 hours of Arts and Sciences or Arts and Sciences-approved upper-division course work (3000 level and above). The complete General Education curriculum and degree requirement list is available at: <https://artsandsciences.osu.edu/academics/current-students/advising/ge>

Students interested in majoring in Public Affairs Journalism are required to apply for admission to their major after completion of pre-major coursework. Pre-major requirements (Communication 1100 and 1101) must be completed with a C- or better for a Major & Specialization Application to be considered. The competitive admissions process is based on cumulative grade point average, pre-major course completion, and enrollment capacity. See <http://comm.osu.edu/undergraduate/pre-major> for additional details. NOTE: Journalism Direct Admission program students will be reviewed for progress at the end of the first year. Direct Admit students are required to successfully complete the pre-major courses prior to taking major-level courses.

Students completing the Public Affairs Journalism major are required to complete a minor in an approved area. Approved minors include: Business, Business Analytics, Campaigns and Elections, Capital Program, Criminology & Criminal Justice Studies, Economics, Geographic Information Science, Geography, International Studies, Media Production & Analysis, Political Science, Public Policy, and World Politics. See artsandsciences.osu.edu for minor curriculum information.

Students who feel that a different minor will better relate to their journalism career goals must receive approval from the School of Communication before the minor is declared. A written petition detailing the way in which the unapproved minor provides domain-specific expertise that aligns with career goals must be submitted. Not all petitions are approved.

Electives could be used to complete second major, minor, certificate, or upper-division credit hours.

*Communication 1100 fulfills the GE Social and Behavioral Sciences course.

^English 1110.xx is a prerequisite for a required major course and fulfills the GE Writing and Information Literacy course.

*Statistics 1350.xx is a prerequisite for the Research Methods requirement on the major and fulfills the GE Mathematical and Quantitative Reasoning or Data Analysis course for the Bachelor of Arts degree. Math placement score of S or higher, or completion of remedial Math, may be required.

The GE Citizenship for a Diverse and Just World requires a minimum of 4 credit hours. If a 3 credit hour course is taken, you would need 2 courses or 6 credit hours to fulfill this requirement. Both courses must come from different departments. If a 4 credit hour course is taken, you would need only 1 course or 4 credit hours.

The GE Second Thematic Pathway requires a minimum of 4 credit hours. If a 3 credit hour course is taken, you would need 2 courses or 6 credit hours to fulfill this requirement. Both courses must come from the same theme and from different departments. If a 4 credit hour course is taken, you would need only 1 course or 4 credit hours.

Plan may vary depending on course offerings, placement test scores, any credit previously earned, individual student scheduling, major specialization selected, and admission to major. Students are encouraged to meet with their advisor at least once per semester to discuss scheduling and ensure they are on the track they hope to be on for completing their degree.
