

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

SYLLABUS: COMM 3440 MASS COMMUNICATION AND SOCIETY SUMMER 2019 ONLINE

Course overview

This course is designed to promote an understanding of basic mass communication practice. We will examine this from the receiving (how mass communication affects the individual and society as a whole) and production (how to design mass mediated campaigns, theories of persuasion) ends, as well as discuss the state of various mass communication industries and media. This class will be taught from a social scientific perspective, with an emphasis on communication theory. As an advanced level course, it will require a combination of active discussion, well-researched writing, and rigorous examination.

Assignment guide

Syllabus and Carmen Quiz

In the first week you will become acquainted with the syllabus, including our course policies. You will also be provided with a student guide to Carmen. The Syllabus and Carmen Quiz will measure what you have learned and ensure you have gained the necessary knowledge to complete the course.

Discussions

Each week, students will be asked to respond to a question about either lecture or media assigned. The initial post will be due by 11:59pm on Wednesday of each week. A post responding to the initial post of another student will be due by Friday of each week. Discussion posts should be a minimum of a paragraph. The post should demonstrate 1. Understanding of the concept(s) in the material provided 2. Independent thought regarding the concepts and material 3. Thoughtful response to the work of at least 1 other student in the class. The first 5 discussion posts are worth 10 points total. The final 4 discussion posts are worth 12.5 points to reflect the increased complexity expected in the response.

Discussion Leading

Discussion leaders are responsible for guiding their group's discussions for that week. One or two students per group will lead the discussions each week. Everyone will lead two times over the course of the semester. Discussion leaders will also report back to the wider class at the end of the week. Further information on discussion leading can be found on Carmen.

Activities

Weekly activities will encourage students to engage with the weekly topic. Activities will vary from .5-2 pages in length (see the individual assignment guidelines as assigned), double spaced, and in .pdf format. Activities are due by 11:59pm each Friday. Exemplary activities should 1. Demonstrate comprehension of the theories and concepts addressed in lecture and media 2. Provide independent thought regarding the theories, concepts, and materials provided 3. Actively and thoughtfully reflect on the questions and prompts provided 4. Demonstrate an understanding of how the concept or media discussed has influenced society.

Exams

Exams will be in essay format and will encourage students to deeply consider the effects of mass media concepts on our society. Responses to each question should be .5-1 page, double spaced, and in .doc or .pdf format.

Late assignments

Late assignments without a valid medical excuse will incur a letter-grade penalty for each day they are late. Assignments 3 or more days late will not be accepted.

Grading scale

Faculty feedback and response time

I am providing the following list to give you an idea of my intended availability throughout the course. (Remember that you can call 614-688-HELP at any time if you have a technical problem.)

Grading and feedback

For large weekly assignments, you can generally expect feedback within 7 days.

E-mail

I will reply to e-mails within 24 hours on school days. Please note that while email works 24/7 I do not. I will do my best to get back to you in a timely fashion. If you do not receive a response after 24 hours, please resend your email in case it got lost in the shuffle.

Discussion board

I will check and reply to messages in the discussion boards every 24 hours on school days.

Attendance, participation, and discussions

Student participation requirements

Because this is a distance-education course, your attendance is based on your online activity and participation. The following is a summary of everyone's expected participation:

- Logging in: AT LEAST THREE TIMES PER WEEK
 Be sure you are logging in to the course in Carmen each week, including weeks with holidays or weeks with minimal online course activity. (During most weeks you will probably log in many times.) If you have a situation that might cause you to miss an entire week of class, discuss it with me as soon as possible. Video lectures will be posted 1-2 times per week on Monday and when needed, Wednesday. Media materials may take the place of Wednesday lectures.

Discussion and communication guidelines

The following are my expectations for how we should communicate as a class. Above all, please remember to be respectful and thoughtful.

- Writing style: While there is no need to participate in class discussions as if you were writing a research paper, you should remember to write using good grammar, spelling, and punctuation. Informality (including an occasional emoticon) is fine for non-academic topics.
- Tone and civility: Let's maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably. Remember that sarcasm doesn't always come across online.
- Citing your sources: When we have academic discussions, please cite your sources to back up what you say. (For the textbook or other course materials, list at least the title and page numbers. For online sources, include a link.)
- Backing up your work: Consider composing your academic posts in a word processor, where you can save your work, and then copying into the Carmen discussion.

Diversity

The School of Communication at The Ohio State University embraces and maintains an environment that respects diverse traditions, heritages, experiences, and people. Our commitment to diversity moves beyond mere tolerance to recognizing, understanding, and welcoming the contributions of diverse groups and the value group members possess as individuals. In our School, the faculty, students, and staff are dedicated to building a tradition of diversity with principles of equal opportunity, personal respect, and the intellectual interests of those who comprise diverse cultures.

Title IX

Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories (e.g., race). If you or someone you know has been sexually harassed or assaulted, you may find the appropriate resources at <http://titleix.osu.edu> or by contacting the Ohio State Title IX Coordinator, Kellie Brennan, at titleix@osu.edu

Academic integrity policy

Policies for this online course

- Written assignments: Your written assignments, including discussion posts, should be your own original work. In formal assignments, you should follow APA style to cite the ideas and words of your research sources. You are encouraged to ask a trusted person to proofread your assignments before you turn them in--but no one else should revise or rewrite your work.
- Reusing past work: In general, you are prohibited in university courses from turning in work from a past class to your current class, even if you modify it. If you want to build on past research or revisit a topic you've explored in previous courses, please discuss the situation with me.

Academic Misconduct

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term "academic misconduct" includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct <http://studentlife.osu.edu/csc/>

Accessibility accommodations for students with disabilities

Requesting accommodations

The University strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions), please let me know via email immediately so that we can privately discuss options. You are also welcome to register with Student Life Disability Services to establish reasonable accommodations. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion.
